Dear Harold,

I apologize for the faint print, but here is a rough draft of a chapter in which I made use of some of the material you provided. Let me know if you have any objection or suggestions. I'm beginning work now on the chapter which would use the Evening Star material, but my mother's accident has been a setback for everybody concerned, including me.

We hope to get together with you when things get a bit better organized. Happy New Year.

Best regards,

Jim Anderson
